Villa

Marbella

New-built villa locates in Rocio de Nagueles, Marbella, created in a fusion of the Mediterranean patio and its entrance hall, is built attached to this void, presented as a "full" that floods the house, shedding light, organizing routes and sewing the building in all its volume. The rest is only its consequence.

It is a set of two simple architectural bodies located on the plot, choosing the direction with the greatest exposure to the south and the views towards the Mediterranean Sea.

Inside the plot, a monumental circular plaza welcomes us to show us the entrance to the residence. It consists of an imposing vertical crack which divides a double-height opaque body. When crossing that threshold, we are channeled into an open and glazed hallway which welcomes us as a preliminary step...
